Observation

- The judges are more concerned on the application of classic common law approach by emphasizing the civil technical aspects and did not tackle the actual Shari'ah issues.
- In the case of Bank Islam Malaysia Berhad v Adnan Omar, the High Court held that the defendant was bound to pay the whole amount of the selling price based on the grounds that he knew the terms of the contract and knowingly entered into the agreement. In this respect, the court applied the classic common law interpretational approach where the parties are bound with the terms and conditions of the contract. The court did not look into the issue further whether BBA facility involves an element not approved by the Shari'ah as stipulated under the IBA and the BAFIA.

- Malayan Banking Berhad v Yakup bin Oje & Anor [2007] 6 MLJ 398 (bba)

Observation

- In the second phase, the court indicates its interest to examine critically the underlying principles and financing facility offered by the IFIs. Unlike the earlier cases in the first phase, several judges initiated a different approach in resolving issues involving Islamic finance particularly in the case of Affin Bank Berhad v Zulkifli Abdullah and Malayan Banking Berhad v Marilyn Ho Siok Lin.
- This position indicates the improvement of judges' level of awareness and understanding of Islamic finance.

Affin Bank v zulkifli Abdullah

- BBA 25 years PP: rm394k paid rm33k claimed by the B: rm958k
- Held: profit up to the date of judgment plus penalty.
- The learned judge indirectly criticized the attitude of early court by using narrow interpretation and heavily applying classic common law approach.
- The proper approach is that for the court to examine further as to the implementation of Islamic banking whether it is contrary to the religion of Islam. The courts held that Islamic contract of BBA is similar with conventional loan and hence the Islamic banks could not claim the unearned profit because it is equal with interest calculation

2008-2011

- Bank Islam Malaysia Bhd v Azhar Osman & Other Cases [2010] 5 CLJ 54 [2010] 1 LNS 251 (bba)

Observation

- In the case of Arab Malaysian Finance Bhd v Taman Ihsan Jaya Sdn Bhd & Ors that the application of the BBA is contrary to the IBA and the BAFIA.
- Clearly indicates the new constructive approach of the court towards Islamic banking cases particularly in resolving issues pertaining to BBA facility. This judgment may affect the Islamic financial sector in Malaysia as the expert estimates that 70 per cent of Islamic financing facility was granted under BBA facility.

Arab Malaysian Finance Bhd v Taman Ihsan Jaya Sdn Bhd & Ors

- The beginning of pro-active attitude of the court in examining the validity and determining issues involved in Islamic banking cases.
- The Federal Constitution, the IBA and the BAFIA do not provide the interpretation of which madhhab is to prevail. BBA facility must not contain any element which is not approved by the religion of Islam under the interpretation of any of the recognized maddhab.

- The court accepts that BBA facility is a bona fide sale transaction and the interpretation of selling price in the case of Affin Bank Berhad v Zulkifli Abdullah was referred to where the court rejects the plaintiffs' interpretation and applies the equitable interpretation.
- Where the bank recalls BBA facility at a higher price in total, the sale is not a bona fide sale but a financing transaction and rendered the facility contrary to the IBA and the BAFIA.
- The court holds that the plaintiffs are entitled under section 66 of the Contracts Act 1950 to return the original facility amount they had extended. It is equitable that the plaintiffs must seek to obtain price as close to the market price as possible and account for the proceeds to the respective defendants.

Case analysis

- In BBA facility, the court uses an equitable interpretation as to the definition of selling price whether the defendant was bound to pay the whole amount of the selling price even in the event of early termination of the contract.
- The classic common law approach will require the defendants to pay the whole amount of the selling price as they are bound by the terms of the contract but the court in this case chooses to apply an equitable principle.
- An equitable interpretation of the selling price removes the excessive amount of profit derived from BBA transaction and therefore the defendants will only have to pay the principal sum of the facility.

Profit portion of BBA facility is unlawful and contrary to the religion of Islam

- 1. The court considers deferred payment of the selling price is a credit or a loan and any profit claimed or charged by the bank as an additional to the facility amount is interest. The court signifies that the profit derived from BBA facility is lawful if the transaction is considered as a bona fide sale. Nevertheless, BBA facility in this case abandon the element of bona fide sale in which making the profit derived from it would be prohibited as riba

- 2. In addition, the court also mentions that excessive selling price under BBA facility imposed a heavier burden upon the defendants that would be contrary to the intent and purpose of verses 275-280 of surah al-Baqarah. Al-Ghazali insists the practice of ibsan or doing good deeds in business rather than merely advocating the maximization of profit. The element of tolerance and benevolence should be the basis upon which the Islamic banking business transactions are conducted.

- 3. the issue of iwad in BBA transaction.

Although the court in the current case does not mention anywhere this specific issue, it is observed that BBA facility has apparently neglected the requirement of iwad (equal counter value or compensation) where the obligation of warranty to the properties sold has been shifted to the vendor and not the plaintiffs as the sellers. Moreover, it is evident in most of BBA legal documentations that the bank holds no liability arising from all defective assets sold.

- 4. The true nature of contracts and transactions is the substance and not the words and the structure. The distinction between a sale and a loan is not maintained in its form alone but it must also be maintained in substance.
- The court opines that BBA facility may be classified as pretence of sale transaction unless there was a novation agreement to make the bank a genuine seller.

- 5. In interpreting the requirement under the IBA and the BAFIA that the financing facilities offered do not involve any element not approved by the religion of Islam, the court declares that the facility must not contain any element not approved by any of the recognized madhab unless the financing agreement states the specific to a particular madhhab.
- Since Bay al-Inah concept is only acceptable in madhhab Shafi'i, it fails to meet the IBA and the BAFIA's requirement and renders the transaction null and void.
